

AMERICAN COLLEGE OF LABORATORY ANIMAL MEDICINE

The American College of Laboratory Animal Medicine welcomed 53 new diplomates following its board certification examination that was held July 21 in Bethesda, Maryland. The new diplomates are as follows:

Michael Bellin, Frederick, Maryland	Brenda Kick, Bar Harbor, Maine
Jennifer Beninson, New York	Casey Kissel, Surf City, New Jersey
Michael Bradley, Kalamazoo, Michigan	Pavlo Kovalenko, Ann Arbor, Michigan
Lauren Bright, New Brunswick, New Jersey	Rebecca LaFleur, Boston
Rachel Brownlee, Davis, California	Dana LeMoine, Columbus, Ohio
Christopher Cheleuitte, New York	Maggie Lin, Davis, California
Richard Chichester, Mesa, Arizona	Alexis Mackiewicz, Davis, California
Daniel Christensen, Frederick, Maryland	Carolyn Malinowski, Paradise Valley, Arizona
Nicole Compo, Toa Baja, Puerto Rico	Marnie Metzler, Charlotte, North Carolina
Marcus Crim, Columbia, Missouri	Lynn Miller, Frederick, Maryland
Amanda Darbyshire, West Lafayette, Indiana	Daniel Montonye, Minneapolis
Carolyn Doerning, Cincinnati	Erica Moore, College Station, Texas
Kathleen Donovan, Cleveland Heights, Ohio	Lauren Neidig, Seattle
Michael Eichner, Stamford, Connecticut	Vanessa Oliver, Calgary, Alberta
Kathryn Emmer, Columbus, Ohio	Natalie Ragland, Tampa, Florida
Marian Esvelt, Dallas	Elliot Ramos, Silver Spring, Maryland
Megan Fine, Maplewood, Minnesota	Amy Rizzo, Blacksburg, Virginia
Michael Fink, Centennial, Colorado	Andrew Schrader, Silver Spring, Maryland
Jennifer Frohlich, Berkeley, California	Timothy Scott, Boston
Kristin Gardiner, Philadelphia	Bryan Taylor, Gainesville, Florida
Sarah Genzer, Atlanta	Joshua Taylor, Tulane, Louisiana
Brian Gibson, Houston	Adam Werts, Baltimore
Jareca Giles, Cary, North Carolina	Bridget Willeford, Starkville, Mississippi
Kathryn Guerriero, Lynwood, Washington	Quentin Wilson, Dickerson, Maryland
Kathleen Heng, Stanford, California	Caroline Winn, Storrs, Connecticut
Jessica Johnston, Providence, Rhode Island	Bradley Youngblood, Cambridge, Massachusetts
Juliane Johnston, Atlanta

CORRECTION

The article "At the National Zoo, a lasting mission to save species" in the Sept. 15, 2019, issue of JAVMA News, page 637, misstated how many animals are at the Smithsonian National Zoo. The zoo has 2,700 animals representing 390 species.