Supplementary Figure S3—Extended pathobiome map from Figure 7 with species that were filtered to represent at least 1% of the mean relative abundance of the microbiome in one of the groups or be significantly enriched in a group. Species that were significantly enriched in a group are highlighted in bold, and species that were part of the core microbiome of a group are highlighted in gray; species relative abundance is indicated by the font size.