Supplementary Figure S1—Percentage of dogs that needed rescue analgesia for 26 shelter dogs that were randomly assigned to receive either a transverse abdominis plane (TAP) block with bupivacaine-dexmedetomidine (BUP-DEX group; n = 9), a TAP block with bupivacaine liposome suspension (BLS group; n = 9), or no TAP block (CTRL group; n = 8) at time 0 before undergoing elective ovariohysterectomy and then evaluated at 4, 6, 12, 24, 48, 72, and 96 hours after time 0 between January 28 and December 8, 2020.