Supplementary Figure 6—Example image of highly attenuating area crossing midline (blue line) leading to falsely increased convex hull area, and decreased density of highly attenuating pixels (dHAP). (A): Raw image. (B): Highly attenuating area. (C): Highly attenuating area of opposite condyle (yellow) with convex hull (red). dHAP measured at 16%.