Supplementary Figure S3—Highlights and recommendations for veterinary practitioners from the study.

Highlights/Recommendations:

- Develop and provide updated and accessible information on zoonotic diseases to all veterinarians irrespective of medicine sector and location.
- Increase opportunities for consultation and communication among veterinarians, physicians, and public health professionals on zoonotic diseases in the US.
- Provide guidelines and feedback to veterinarians on measures to follow in the event of zoonotic disease outbreaks or if veterinarians have diagnosed reportable zoonoses in their patients.
- Improve communication skills of veterinarians including enhancing communication between veterinarians and clients on zoonoses prevention.
- Strengthen infection control measures in veterinary clinics and require all staff and personnel to follow updated and mandatory standard operating procedures to prevent contracting zoonoses.
